Sir,

We the undersigned are the residence of Hoody Village, some of are also gainfully employed in Sadaramangala Industrial Area. It is seen that the root of the Bangalore Metro (Phase-II) does not provide for sufficient metro access. On contrary the Metro is being diverted to go through EPIP area and directly to ITPL continuing in further towards Whitefield.

As a consequence of the diversion of Metro in to EPIP the same as the effect of providing the specialty of Metro as area it does not depend upon the public means of transport. The cost of the diverting the root is neither justified nor necessary.

The decision appears to be based on the number of employees working in EPIP. The information is factually incorrect. EPIP are promotes BPO operations supporting various countries who work during the night in comparison the Industrial Area in Mahadevapura, Hoody and adjoining areas have a very high influx of skilled, semi skilled, Industrial Labor, Hotels residence areas which have a greater need for Metro.

It is seen that the attempt to divert the Metro Lane is only to the benefit of private individuals including Vydehi Hospital. Near Vydehi Hospital there is already a Bus Terminus which can provide feeder services. Locating a feeder service and Metro in same location is misconceived. The patients to the Hospital will arrive generally in an Ambulance and the employees of the BPO travel either by way of vehicles provided by the company or in their put transport. Therefore providing Metro in these roots is not in a interest of public.

The cost of constructions in the present proposed root effects the viability of the project when compared to the cost of the project if the root is provided without any deviation. For any further correspondence you may contact the below address:
